06. Research Area

How MTBL can be a leading Bank in Bangladesh maintaining Multinational firm standard like HSBC Bank

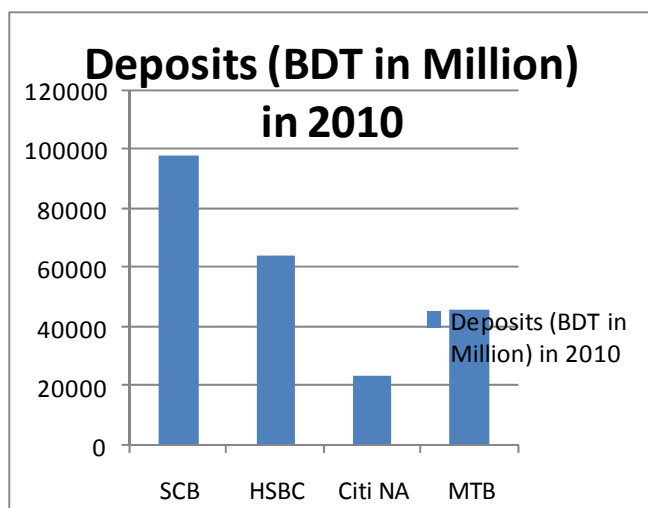

Before getting into the details of my research topic I would like to give an industry standard of MTBL in respondent to several banking entities.

6.1 Industry standard

6.1.1 Comparison in terms of operating profit:

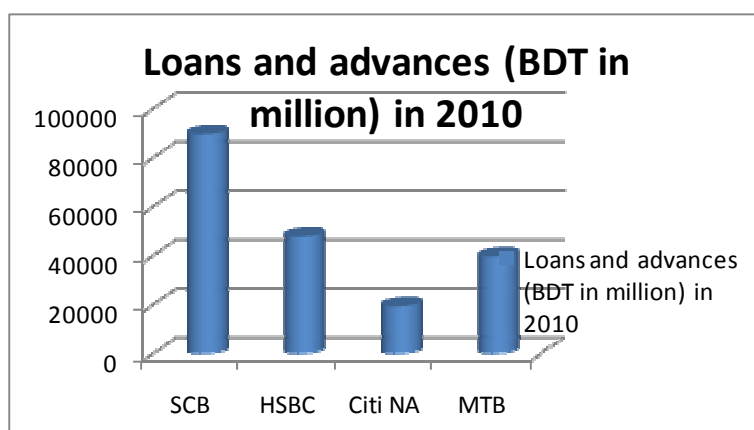

In 2010, SCB earned the highest amount of operating profit among the banks. HSBC has the second position. MTB is the third. It earned better than Citi NA in terms of operating profit.

6.1.2 Comparison in terms of Deposits:

In 2010, SCB collected highest amount of Deposits among the banks which was BDT 98,000 million, where as other FCBs like HSBC, Citi bank collected BDT 63,983, BDT 23,387 million respectively. As a local bank, Mutual Trust Bank Limited collected BDT 45846 million which is better than Citi bank

6.1.3 Comparison in terms of loans and advances

In terms of loan and advances, SCB is the first. HSBC is the second and MTB is third. Citi NA has the last position among the banks.

6.1.4 Comparison in terms of Earning Before Tax (EBT):

From the bar graph, we can see that among the banks SCB has the highest EBT in 2010. Other three banks are no where near. But comparing with HSBC and Citi bank, MTB is doing well.

So, comparing with the other foreign bank, Mutual Trust Bank is not that much good. But as a local bank, the performance of the bank in terms of operating profit, deposits, loan and advances and EBT is very satisfactory. This bank has potentiality. It can increase its performance to international standards.

6.2 Introduction

Mutual Trust Bank Limited was incorporated on September 29, 1999 under the Companies Act 1994 as a public company limited by shares for carrying out all kinds of banking activities with Authorized Capital of Tk. 38,00,000,000 divided into 38,000,000 ordinary shares of Tk.100 each.

Today, the HSBC Group offers a comprehensive range of financial services in Bangladesh including commercial banking, consumer banking, payments and cash management, trade services, treasury, and custody and clearing.

6.3 Statement Of The Problem

A multinational firm is blessed with immense structural resources. These resources function as a sustainable competitive advantage for them on a long term basis. This is found to be a challenge for the local firms that the management has to deal with on daily basis. Therefore, local firms are failing to keep their pace with the competition and failing to ensure their growth wise sustainability. How a local firm can deal with the competitive threats from the international firm - is the key area of concern for this study.

6.4 Purpose Of The Study

Banking industry is one of the most promising financial institutions of Bangladesh and a good number of firms have emerged and developed a highly competitive industry. The main area of this study is to select two competitors from this industry and to perform an action based comparison and to provide constructive measures to ensure superior performance for the underperforming company. This study keys out the necessary areas to focus that allows a local firm to perform in a superior manner.

In addition to this, we will be gaining knowledge on the selected banks' performance, actions, strengths, weaknesses and other relevant information. Furthermore, this study highlights approach-wise-differences and the gives an idea on the preferable practices with superior outcome.

6.5 Research Questions & Hypothesis

On the basis of the literature works from previous section the study finds the following hypothesis -
The null hypothesis for the research is:

H0: HSBC is outperforming in the banking industry in compare to MTBL.

The alternative hypothesis for the research is:

2. What are the existing practices that are required to be improved by the underperforming company?
3. What strategies are needed to ensure superior performance by the underperforming company?

6.10 Recommendation

Branding strategy: MTBL has major competitive potentials but it requires working on some key areas. Both HSBC and MTBL are competing over a similar target market and the product/service offerings by both company is almost similar. The key reason for superior performance of HSBC is because of its superior branding strategy. Besides the strong acceptance it multinational level has established a sustainable competitive advantage for HSBC.

Differentiation strategies: MTBL is requiring working more on its differentiation strategies. In this highly clustered market, only differentiated products will enable stronger attention from the customers.

Brand association: In addition to this, MTBL should focus more on superior brand association as HSBC does. HSBC associated itself with The Daily Prothom Alo and The Daily Star - the two popular most newspapers of Bangladesh. HSBC linked itself with other popular brands across different sectors through its bill payment system -

- Qubee and Banglalion - the two major wi-max internet provider of the country,
- Metlife Alico - the giant in the country's insurance sector
- Grameenphone, Citycell, Robi, Banglalink and Airtel - the major mobile operators of the country

All this associations are enhancing customer confidence and by nature customers are feeling more secured and respected to invest on HSBC. MTBL should adopt this concept and apply it to enhance its image.
