Executive Summary

As banks play the key roles in the economy, it is important to know the performance of banks in their operational areas. In addition to this, banks' performances should be measured because of the several parties related to the banking industry. Depositors evaluate performance to make a decision regarding whether to trade with the bank, bank-managers evaluate performance to formulate a strategy, and regulators evaluate to ensure whether the banks' performances align with the legal and societal structure of the country.

The objective of the study is to analyze the "Loan Disbursement" A Case Study on First Security Islami Bank Limited

Though primary objective of preparing this paper is to fulfill the requirement of BBA internship program but this study will serve as a reference for any kind of further research both for academic or business purposes.

From the study we will get a clear picture of overall performance of FSIBL and also special scenario of customer satisfaction level of monthly savings scheme. Overall customer satisfaction depends on what type of service marketer providing to customer. Customers expect more return on their savings which is comparatively lower than other private commercial bank.

The study has some shortcoming are lack of knowledge to such type of survey, time limitations, respondents' unwillingness to cooperate and limited sample size.

This report is prepared on the basis of information collected from both secondary and primary sources and every effort has been made to ensure that the information compiled in the report is accurate.

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction

1.2 Origin of the Report

1.3 Objectives of the Study

1.4 Scope of the Study

1.5 Methodology of the Study

1.6 Limitations of the Study

1.1 Introduction

A banking institution is indispensable in a modern society. It plays a pivotal role in the economic development of a country and forms the core of the money market in an advanced country. In recent times the banking sector over the world has been undergoing a lot of changes due to deregulation, technological innovation, globalization etc. Bangladesh banking sector is lagging for behind in adopting these changes. Bank plays an important role in the business sectors and in the industrialization of a country. Basically the banks take deposits from the customers against interest and lend it to the borrowers against interest cessation period. Under these circumstances of bank offers different interest rates and other options to the customers to remit and deposit their money. These options are vary common among all the banks, but only the customer services and other facilities very from bank to bank.

1.2 Origin of the Report

This report is prepared as per internship requirement of my Business Administration (BBA) program of Independent University Bangladesh. I worked 3 Months in First Security Islami Bank Limited (FSIBL) Topkhana Road Branch. In three months I have through various banking activities. This report is a brief overview of those daily activities, I have done during the internship period.

1.3. Objectives of the Study

The main objective of the study is to analyze the performance of corporate and consumer loan disbursement of FSIBL. To achieve this main objective the following sub objectives have been undertaken:

1. To give a theoretical framework of Corporate and Consumer loan.
2. To identify the problems related to Loan Disbursement faced by FSIBL.
3. To know the different types products under Corporate and Consumer Loan.

1.4. Scope of the Study

This report will be dealing with the overview of First Security Ialami Bank Ltd. & mainly deals with “Loan Disbursement” of this Bank. The topic is fixed. But the report has tried to cover overview of FSIBL objectives, functions, management, business policy and other things. This report has also mentioned some problems of FSIBL’s Operating systems and its solutions. The empirical part includes only the published information and current practices of the First Security Islami Bank Limited included.

1.5. Methodology of the Study: The research design is presented below-

Area of the study

The proposed study has been focused on the Loan Disbursement of the FSIBL. In relation with the primary & secondary objectives, the Topkhana Road branch of the FSIBL has been selected to perform my internship program.

Sources of information

Primary Data: Data has been collected primarily through correspondence with the personnel working in different desks.

Secondary data: Secondary sources consist of several reading materials such as circulars, journals, brochures, and annual reports.

The required data and information to prepare the assignment have been collected from the followings sources:

1. Procedures published by the FSIBL, Head office.
2. Files and documents of the branch.
3. Personal interview with branch officials and Executives.

Methods of data collection: The data presented in this report has been collected from the annual reports of the bank from 2006 to 2010, by taking interview of the credit officer, from the training instruments of the bank, from published books and through structured questionnaire.

Data Processing & Analysis: Data has been computerized & processed by using MS Word, MS Excel. For the purpose of analyzing the data we have presented in tabular form, percentage form with necessary chart and graphs

1.6. Limitations of the study

- Lack of adequate Information of banking institution for preparing this report, so this report is based on only publicly available information.
- Although bankers have tried their best to help me, their nature of job is such that gives them little time to discuss.
- It was very difficult to get the actual information.

3.1 Definition of Loan

Credit is defined as confidence in a borrower's ability and intention to repay. People use the credit they have with financial institution, business, and individuals to obtain loans. And they use the loans to buy goods and services.

The credit a person has typically determines how much they will be able to borrow, for what purpose, for how long, and at what interest rates.

Credit in general sense means an act of allowing person or person's immediate use of money with payment deferred until an agreed future date.

3.2 Rules for Application

Interested clients shall apply to any branch of the bank as per following procedures:

1. Application In Bank's prescribed form duly filled in all accounts.
2. Two passport size photographs duly attested.
3. A certificate of net monthly income from the employer (in case of Service holders).
4. Suppliers should be authorized by the Bank.

3.3 Documentation of Loan

The customer will execute the following documents:

- D.P. Note
- Letter of Undertaking
- Letter of Installments
- Letter of Hypothecation
- Loan Agreement Under Consumers Finance Schemes
- Letter of Guarantee
- Letter of disbursement
- Letter of Authority

The client will also submit crossed cheques in advance for all the stipulated installments in favor of the Bank towards repayment of loan including interest and service charge. Personal guarantee of two officials of the same rank or of superior rank of the borrower, officers/Managers of Bank in the grade of principal officer or above. The guarantor must have to be a man of means and shall have to be acceptable to bank. Security in the form of FDR/BSP/PSP or Bank/ Insurance guarantee or corporate if possible may be obtained. The articles procured under the scheme shall remain hypothecated to the bank as security.

3.4 Loan Sanction

Clients demand specific amount of loan from the Bank after making justification of clients demand, the amount of money sanctioned by Bank as loan is called Loan Sanction. Generally the loan FSIB offers to its clients is divided into two categories; Retail loan and Consumer Credit Scheme.

3.5 Categories of loan

All loans advances will be grouped into 4 categories for the purpose of classification. These areas-

- Continuous Loan
- Demand Loan
- Fixed Term Loan and
- Short Term Agricultural & Micro Credit

Continuous Loan: The loan Accounts in which transaction may be made within certain limit and have an expiry date for full adjustment will be treated as continuous loan. For example: CC (cash credit), OD (Over Draft) etc.

In continuous loan bank need some collateral securities to the customer. If customer wants to take a lone against his FDR (any bank account) he has to submit all documents of FDR. He also take loan against his fix assets like land, house.

Demand Loan: The loan that becomes repayable on demand by the bank will be treated as Demand Loans. If any contingent or any other liabilities are turned to forced loans (i.e. without any prior approval as regular loan) those too will be treated as Demand Loans. Such as: Forced LIM, PAD, FBP, and IBP etc.

In demand loan bank need charged documents (shown in 4.3). If customer wants to take loan against his house, at first bank have to see all deeds and documents legal or not, then take the valuation of assets and give loan 80% (force rate) of value.

Fixed Term Loan: Loans which are repayable within a specific time period under a specific repayment schedule will be treated as Fixed Term Loans. (Details in 4.8)

Short Term Agricultural & Micro Credit: Short Term Agricultural & Micro Credit will include the short-term credits as listed under the Annual Credit program issued by the Agricultural Credit department of Bangladesh Bank. Credit in the agricultural sector repayable within less than 12 months will also be included herein. Short-term Micro-Credits will include any Micro-Credits for less than Tk. 25,000/- and repayable within less than 12 months, be those termed in any names Such as nonagricultural credit, self-reliant Credit, Weaver's Credit or Bank's individual project credit.

Actually this loan doesn't need special documents. It's only need chairmen /commissioner certificate.

3.6 Credit Mix

FSIBL offers following types of Credit (loans and advances) as a whole as well as Topkhana Road Branch:

- Cash Credit (Hypo)
- Term Loan
- Secured Overdrafts
- House Building Loan(HBL)
- Transport
- Hire Purchase Scheme
- Small Enterprise Financing

3.7 Cash Credit (Hypo)

Cash Credit or continuing credits are those that form continuous debits and credits up to a limit and have an expiration date. A service charge that is effect an interest charge is normally made as a percentage of the value of purchases. These credits may be of the nature of pledged and /or hypothecated and banks should report these in separate heads incorporated under the main head cash credit. A detailed explanation of hypothecation is given below.

Under this arrangement a credit is sanctioned against hypothecation of the raw materials or finished goods. The letter of hypothecation creates a charge against the goods in favor of the Bank but neither the ownership nor its possession is passed on to it; only a right or interest in the goods is created in favor of the Bank and the borrower binds himself to give possession of the goods to the bank when called upon to do so. When the possession is handed over, the charge is converted into pledge. This type of facility is generally given to the reputed borrowers of undoubted integrity.

3.8 Term Loan

A term loan is a contract under which a borrower agrees to make a series of interest and principal payments on specific dates to the lender. Term loan have three major advantages over public offerings- speed, flexibility & low issuance costs.

There are two of term loan one is short term another is long term. Short term loan is only five years or less than five years and long term loan up to five years. These two loan recovery system can be same like installment. Long term loan must need a grantor and need all necessary document that shown in 4.3.

3.9 Secured Overdrafts [SOD (FO)]

A loan facility against customer's financial obligations (MSS/DBDS/FDR/Share) at a Bank permitting him to overdraw up to a certain agreed limit for an agreed period. The customer has to a saving A/c in that branch. The terms of the loan are normally that it is repayable on demand or at the expiration date of the agreement.

All the account documents have to submit in bank. It can be other bank MSSS/FDR/Share/double benefit scheme. Bank needs a guaranty for particular loan that fulfill account documents.

3.10 House Building Loan

Banks makes house building loans to fund the acquisition of real property: homes, apartment complexes, shopping center office building, warehouses, and other physical structures as well as land in some cases.

House related all paper has to submit to bank then bank investigate all the requirements. After investigation if bank take a decision to give him loan then bank take all the documents as a mortgage. Bank also give apartment loan, this loan have to conceder as a tri part agreements. Builders handover the flat to the bank and after covering all installment bank handover the flat to the purchaser.

3.11 Small Enterprise Financing

These a type of loans is provide to the small, medium enterprise for expanding their business activities in the long run. This is a short term loan. It provides for one year.

Small Enterprise Financing loan doesn't need any securities or deeds and documents. Its need only grantor and provable documents of business like tread license, tread deal documents, tin certificate, bank statement.

3.12 Loan Recovery Unit

The RU should directly mange accounts with sustained deterioration. All time bank monitoring the loan client with a very special care. If any client fails to adjust his loan amount, bank has to take some step against client to recover the loan. The RU's Functions are:

- At first, Bank can send 3 times reminder to the client. (1st reminder, 2nd reminder, 3rd reminder).
- Make call to the customer or verbally say the entire problem about loan adjustment and request to clean up all the deals.
- If client fail to pay the money the guarantor is responsible to pay in terms of complain.
- After than if client fail to adjust his loan amount then bank sent Notice to the client.
- At last bank can sue the client in court and bank has to submit the entire loan document.

CHAPTER 5: INTERNSHIP, POSITION, DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Internship :

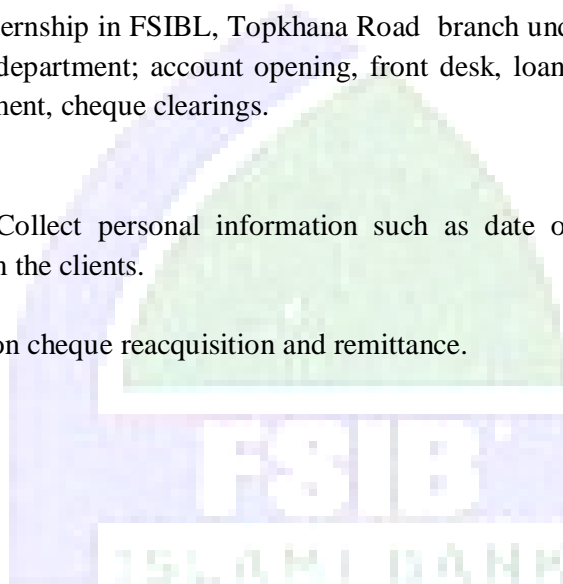

Internship is a practical experiment in the work field under supervisor. Its intention is to gather practical knowledge about job life. Internship is necessary to complete BBA program. The time period of internship can be two, three and six months. Internship can be performed in various organizations such as banking sector, insurance and Multi-national Company etc.

Position, Duties and responsibilities:

I've performed my internship in FSIBL, Topkhana Road branch under a supervisor. I've worked in following department; account opening, front desk, loan department, foreign exchange, DD department, cheque clearings.

Account opening: I Collect personal information such as date of birth, national ID number, nominee from the clients.

Front desk: I worked on cheque reacquisition and remittance.

CHAPTER 6:

Recommendation and conclusion

6.1 Recommendation of FSIBL

6.2 Conclusion

6.1 Recommendation of FSIBL

The following are some recommendation of FSIBL:

(i) Improvement of the HRD

The HR department of the bank is one of the weakest areas and many of the human resources development and policies are not being followed or implemented. Though there has been performance appraisal for the employees but still it is lying idle and no action has been taken. The management should immediately apply the performance appraisal system and take appropriate actions on the basis of that appraisal.

(ii) Better recruitment

FSIBL must pursue a strong and an effective recruitment system so that the right people are recruited at the job. It must focus on attracting, getting and retaining qualified personnel for filling up the positions. It is worth spending more on attracting qualified human resources rather than getting wrong people in the wrong position.

(iii) Stop reference appointment

FSIBL management and particularly the Board of director must change the system of appointing people by giving their reference. It has been deeply observed that most of the appoint references are not up to the standard and have a poor performance. It may not be absolutely possible to eliminate the reference appointment system as it is a local private company, but still the tendency can be reduced to a certain extent if bold steps are undertaken by the management and the board of directors.

(iv) Branch expansion

For expanding geographically the bank should open up new branches strategies important places. The bank can open new branches in Mailbag, Kakrail and new Eskaton of Dhaka city. Some of its rivals already entered in some of this regions and some of are on the way, so the bank should expand in this regions without making any delay. Before entering into new market the bank should do extensive market research.

- The bank should build reflective management team who can make quick decision.
- Improved customer service and consequently get satisfactory operational result.

- Avoid force loan as minimum as it can.
- Incorporate more products for the customer.
- Proper training and technology should be used to minimize risk at the root level.
- Auto mated letter machine (ATM) and credit cards should be introduced as soon as possible because of its prevailing demand in the market.

6.2 conclusions

Modern commercial banking is challenging business. The rewards are modest. the penalties for bad looking are enormous. Commercial banks are great monetary institutions, important to general welfare of the company more than many other financial institutions.

FSIBL is an emerging bank. The bank has completed twelve years of banking services. At the initial stage of business, every institution has to go through the difficult stage of survival. To achieve the confidence of the customers, the bank must execute some improvement in its marketing and operational areas – FSIBL should try to win customers faith by providing them efficient and dependable services, credit facilities and updating with user friendly modern technologies. The bank should redesign all sorts of banking procedure to be more users friendly, attractive and impressive.

Information and Analysis is not sufficient because it is difficult to measure and express perfectly within this short time of my internship period. But it is a great opportunity for me to get use to with the operational environment of commercial banking of FSIBL. I have tried by soul to incorporate the research report with necessary relevant information in my report.

This report basically deals with “Loan Disbursement”. But all information is not available about this topic. It is found from the report that credit management of FSIBL, Topkhana Road Branch. There are many terms and conditions about this credit.

FSIBL should always try to improve their service level in every term.
