The goal of this analysis is to expose the student in the organizational work situation and also to provide an opportunity for applying classroom learning in practice. There are some difference between theories and practice.

1.2 Origin of the report:

This report is done as partial requirement of the 3 months internship program for the BBA students of Independent University, Bangladesh. A well defined topic reflect what is going on to be discussed thought on the report the topic that has been assigned by supervision is "General Activities of Southeast Bank Limited" The report has discussed how the bank operates their activities with their regular customers

1.6 Methodology of the report

The study requires various types of information • past and present policies, procedures and methods of General Banking Operation. Both primary and secondary data available have been used in preparing this report.

1.6.1 Primary Data sources:

- Office circular

And carefully developed, disguised queries, trend and growth rate analysis, ratio analysis, graphical presentation such as pie chart, bar, graphs have been used. Raw data collected from various sources required to be processed, edited for the purpose of the study.

For this study mainly secondary source of data had been relied on, because secondary data can be an immediate and cost effective means to gaining valuable insight into research issues, provided that the information comes from reliable and timely sources. Its sample was small and no representative. The research has been started with secondary data and preceded to primary data only when the secondary data sources have been exhausted or yield marginal returns. An analytical approach has been followed to conclude the decisions. At last the study tries to give a comprehensive picture of the commercial banks' are Annual Report of SEBL. Printed forms and documents supplied by SEBL

1.7 Scope of the report:

This report covers Southeast bank's Products and Services, Organizational Overview, Management and Organizational Structure functions performed by SEBL. It also covers overview of the general banking division, processes and other functions.

1.8 Limitation of the report:

- The one of the main limitations of the research paper was to conduct a small scale survey on clients.
- Time period was the other limitation for collecting information, which was only three month long.
- Insufficient supply of relevant books and journals.
- The branch is too much busy branch as for this to operate the survey on the basis of questionnaire.
- Deficiencies in data required for the study.
- Field practice varies with the standard practice that also created problem.
- Time provided for conducting the study is another important constraint.
- The employees in Southeast Bank Limited are so much busy in their responsible fields; they could hardly provide little time to discuss with them.

Management Information Systems is a very wide spectrum. However the branch does not even have a separate MIS division. I could not therefore focus on MIS practices on local banks, as there is not much to deal with.

The territories which now constitute Bangladesh were integral part of Mughal Empire and thereafter British-India and then Pakistan. Hence we have the common historical background of banking and banking institutions as that of Pakistan and India. For the beginning of banking in the territory now comprised Bangladesh, we must go back to the Calcutta Agency Houses. These trading firms started their banking operations for the welfare of their constituents. The important among those Houses were Messers. Alexander & Co. Messers. Fargusson & Co. both the firms started the business of banking with other business, and both were the predecessors of the early joint stock Banks in the then India. The Bank of Hindustan was the earliest bank started under the direction of the British rule in British-India.

After the partition of British-India into Pakistan and India, the territories now form Bangladesh became integral part of Pakistan and was called East Pakistan. Immediately after partition, as aforesaid, in 1987, an Expert Committee was appointed to study the issue of banking in the then Pakistan. On the recommendation of the Expert Committee the Reserve Bank of India continued its function in Pakistan up to 30th September, 1948 and there after the State Bank of Pakistan, having been established on the 1st July, 1948 started functioning and assumed full control of banking and currency.

2.5 Beginning of Banking in Bangladesh:

After independence the Government of Peoples Republic of Bangladesh was formally to cover the charge of the administration of the territory now constitute Bangladesh. In an attempt to rehabilitate the war-devastated banking of Bangladesh, the government promulgated a law called Bangladesh Bank (temporary) order, 1971 (Acting President's Order No.2 of 1971). By this order, the State Bank of Pakistan was declared to be deemed as offices, branches and assets of Bangladesh Bank. On that date there existed 14 scheduled banks with about 3042 branches all over the country.

On the 16th December, 1971, there existed the following 12 banks in Bangladesh, namely:-

Hence in order to implement the above mentioned state policy; the Government of Bangladesh decides to nationalize all the banks of the country accordingly on the 26th March, 1972, Bangladesh Banks (Nationalization) Order, 1972(President order No. 26 of 1972) was promulgated.

Government began to reform the financial sector interest rates on deposits were raised to provide a positive real return in deposits. The foreign exchange they send home is the second largest source of much needed foreign exchange for our economic development. In fact if we adjust import costs against export of the garments

Although Southeast Bank has entered into remittance late compared to the other private banks, it has continuously strived to build its remittance business around quality service by making it easy for remitters to remit money through a network of agreements with reputed banks and remittance houses abroad and an extensive network in the country to deliver the money to the beneficiaries at their door in the quickest possible time and without hassles.

Chapter-04 (My duties and responsibilities)

4.1 Prelude:

During my internship period, initially I was deputed to Head office Branch. So, I had the opportunity to know two types of working environment:

- General banking activities.
- Gathered some information about Human Resource Management.

In this chapter, I shall describe my activities at branch upon general banking and some part of Human resource management.

4.2 General Banking:

General banking is the most important division for any commercial bank. This division is designed to provide the customers in depositing money, smoothing transactions for people and ensure security of the precious wealth of the customers.

Financial institution/ intermediary that mediates or stands between ultimate borrowers and ultimate lenders is known as banking financial institution. Banks perform this function in two ways- taking deposits from various areas in different forms and lending that accumulated amount of money to the potential investors in other different forms. General Banking is the starting point of all the banking operating. General Banking department aids in taking deposits and simultaneously provides some ancillary services. It provides those customers who come frequently and those customers who come one time in banking for enjoying ancillary services. In some general banking activities, there is no relation between banker and customers who will take only one service form bank. On the other hand, there are some customers with whom bank are doing its business frequently. It is the department, which provides day-to-day services to the customers. Every day it receives deposits from the customers and meets their demand for cash by honoring cheques. It opens new accounts, demit funds, issue bank drafts and pay orders etc.

4.3 The specific activities I performed:

Before explaining core banking concepts I want to give a brief explanation of bank account entry system– debit (Dr.) and credit (Cr.).Credit in accounting means the amount that is owed too or due to be received by an account and debit means the amount owed by or due to be paid by an account. When someone deposits money in the bank, the cashier will tell him that he will credit his/her account. From that experience, most people assume that cash is a credit, and, so, credits are good. That is further reinforced when reductions in the accounts are referred to as debits. Actually there is nothing good or bad about credit and debit. This is a double entry system.

When the cashier is telling the person depositing money that he or she will “credit” your account, they are also entering a debit for the same amount. The same is true for the debits to the client s account- there is also a credit being made at the same time. The banks put the entry to their liability account. Since liabilities are credit accounts they are crediting our account. When they reduce their liability to the client, they are debiting their liability account

I worked in different activities of general banking, My Major Responsibilities was,

- Responsible to bill collection and created the corresponding voucher.
- Prepared and executed the inter branch credit advice and inter branch debit advice
- Performed posting the voucher to Bank software (BankUltimus) and other transactions to journals or ledgers and verified accuracy
- Authorized to all entries after vouchers are posted successfully.
- Issuance of Cheque books and Pay order (PO)
- Carry out departmental need by maintaining internal & external relationship
- Prepared spreadsheets and multiple account reconciliations
- File folder updating, organized files and documents.

4.3.1 How to create a Statement of bill payment:

I made everyday different types of statement of bill payment in Excel shit. Here I showed a sample of statement. For example, Bangla Phone is an internet service which is provided to SEBL for internal purposes. I collected their monthly bill papers and then making the whole branches bills together in one statement in Excel shit. The statement is given below:

From general point of view, I gathered a lot of experiences in different areas of banking while working at Southeast Bank limited Bangladesh as an intern

- Worked in a corporate environment and interacted with employees from different hierarchies in a professional environment.
- Gained knowledge about their prestigious banking software “BankUltimus”
- Gained ability to interact with customers, to work in a team environment, to meet deadlines and to do work correctly and efficiently at the same time.
- One of the important mention is that one must always be careful while receiving checks the following instruments: Amount of taka, name of the payee, date, and account number.

Since this was the first time I got engaged in a corporate world, I was a bit confused about their working processes. One important aspect of working in a bank is meeting deadlines. Everyone in the bank must make sure that the day to day work has to be done on time and nothing should not be kept pending for the next day. This helped me to learn working within a set time limit and meet deadlines. Now I know how to finish work effectively and efficiently.

In today's world of business without bank's co-operation, it is almost impossible to run any business or production unit of business. Exports and import need finance in various stages of their activities. Southeast Bank Limited is playing a vital role in financing import and exports of the country and helping the businesses by providing funds to run.

There are lots of local and foreign banks competing in banking industry in Bangladesh and the Southeast Bank Limited is keeping its promises for about fifteen years among them very successfully. In this competitive market Southeast Bank has to compete not only the others commercial banks but also the public banks and other financial institution also. In near future I think bank and mobile companies will come together to foster the banking service and make it available to people's hand. To survive in this dynamic market and lead it from the front the bank must take every initiative very wisely and so far they have successfully utilized their human resource efficiently compare to other private and public banks.

Before internship I had idea about banking but that was only bookish. Now after completing my internship period and preparing term paper on it I got practical aspect of banking. It will definitely help me to see the things from banking perspective also. It provided me with a realistic work preview and offered practical, supervised learning experience.
